

The Carolinas Center for Hospice and End of Life Care Presents

Pain Resource Nurse Training

September 29, 2009

McLeod Hospice House

1203 East Cheves Street, Florence, SC

Nurses, join us for a full day of training as a Pain Resource Nurse (PRN). Our goal is to improve pain care and to train YOU to be a resource in your institution for other staff members regarding pain management. It will also help improve policy and remove barriers in your practice setting.

Objectives:

Learner will be able to:

- ◇ Identify barriers and misconceptions related to pain management
- ◇ Verbalize understanding of the differences between addiction, tolerance, dependence and pseudo addiction and opioid withdrawal syndrome
- ◇ Demonstrate knowledge of appropriate skills of pain assessment
- ◇ Verbalize understanding of opioid induced side effects and measures to manage these side effects
- ◇ Identify neuropathic pain and appropriate treatment modalities
- ◇ Identify non-pharmacologic measures which may be used in pain management
- ◇ Identify symptoms of "good" pain management
- ◇ Identify ethical issues of pain management
- ◇ Identify strategies to promote effective communication between medical team and the patient
- ◇ Discuss the role of PCA and epidurals in pain management
- ◇ Discuss the PRN role and verbalize understanding of that role

About the Speaker:

Tamara N. Bowman, RN, CHPN, is the Pain and Palliative Care Coordinator for MUSC. She received official training through the Alliance of State Pain Initiatives to be a Pain Resource Nurse Trainer. She will complete her Adult Nurse Practitioner dually trained in Palliative Care in August 2009. She earned her hospice and palliative care certification through ANCC, and serves as the chair of the professional education committee for the South Carolina Pain Initiative.
